This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S REPORT.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE:
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Concord, June 1, 1866.

To His Excellency, FREDERICK SMYTH,
Governor and Commander-in-Chief:

GOVERNOR —In compiling my Annual Report for this year, I have been governed chiefly by the desire of bringing to a complete close the record of our volunteer soldiery, accounting for those remaining in service January 1, 1865, and all others previously erroneously accounted for; and it is with the utmost satisfaction that I submit my Report, in the full belief that no other State has been more fortunate in securing a record more satisfactory and reliable in its many details.

In transcribing the record of each volunteer for publication, I have aimed to exhibit, in as full and complete a manner as is possible to have printed in so limited a space, the many changes that have occurred in the way of promotion, and of casualties received in action. In no instance have I omitted to have appear upon the record the fact of a promotion, or casualty received, if the same has been officially reported to this office.

Our citizens have cause for feeling grateful that all of our brave volunteers, who have survived the dangers and hardships of four long years of sanguinary war, marked by unprecedented campaigns, have returned to their peaceful homes during the past year. It has enabled me to close their brilliant record, thereby rendering prompt justice to the most honored of our citizens.

The size of the Report renders it necessary that it should be issued in two volumes.

VOLUME I.

I have deemed it advisable to include in the same volume the entire tabular records of our volunteers, which will greatly facilitate the attainment of information in all cases of reference. Beside these statistics, the first volume contains the annual enrollment of the militia for April, 1866, and the roster of officers of New-Hampshire Volunteer State Militia, with general remarks on the various topics which require consideration.

VOLUME II.

It has been a desideratum to preserve in some way a brief history of the organization and operations of each of the military commands raised by the State, giving, so far as the limits of a volume will permit, a narrative account of the manner and circumstances under which they were raised, the military operations in which they have participated, and the numerous data and items concerning each, which will thus be preserved in convenient form, and, it is hoped, prove interesting to all who have known any thing of the regiments to which they relate. Sketches of some of the regiments were published in my Report of last year; but, from the fact that they were mostly imperfect and meagre, I have deemed it desirable to make this volume as complete a history of the volunteer forces of the State as can be obtained. To enable me to carry out this idea, circulars were sent from this office to the officers of the various commands, asking them to either send sketches of their respective commands, written by themselves, or such material as they had, from which sketches might be compiled. I am gratified to state that this request has been generally complied with, and material has been furnished sufficient to supply tolerably full histories of all the volunteer organizations of the State.

I have cause for great satisfaction in having secured the services of Lieut. George A. Marden, late of the First Regiment U. S. Sharp-shooters, who has assumed the full charge of compiling the histories of our volunteer soldiery. Lieutenant Marden entered the service as a private in 1861, and, as soldier and officer in various capacities, served three years. His experience in the army renders him well qualified to supervise the preparation of these histories; and his ability as a writer, which is well known in this vicinity, gives assurance that the work will be well and faithfully accomplished.

I would here call attention to the report which follows the history of the Fourteenth Regiment, of the inauguration of the Winchester Monument, erected by the State in honor of the memory of our gallant heroes, members of the 14th Regiment N. H. V., who were slain in battle at Winchester, Va., Sept. 19, 1864.

In addition, this volume will contain a

HISTORY OF THE STATE MILITIA.

It gives me great pleasure to state that Col. Chandler E. Potter, of Hillsborough, has kindly furnished an interesting and valuable account of the militia of New-Hampshire, from its origin down to the commencement of the late war, and in which he has carefully collected and brought together, in an entertaining manner, a large number of facts which will prove of great value for reference, and as an authentic record of the former laws and organizations of New-Hampshire militia.

SUMMARY OF OFFICIAL BUSINESS TRANSACTED DURING THE PAST YEAR.

The amount of labor required to be performed in this office during the past year has not materially differed from that of the year previous.

While it has lessened in some particular branches, other new branches of labor have arisen which have taxed to the utmost the constant employment of the small force, when compared with that of other States, at my command. Instead of the anticipated respite from arduous duties such as attended the organization of new commands and the recruitment of those already in the field, these have been exceeded by the laborious duties consequent upon the rapid muster-out of service of our several regiments and other volunteer organizations.

The troops arrived home with such rapidity that I was forced to work my assistants, not only from eight to ten hours in the day, but to a late hour in the night also, in copying muster-out rolls of companies, comparing them with regimental returns, and recording the same upon the descriptive records of our volunteers. This work was of a most fatiguing nature, requiring great patience, careful attention, and a discriminating judgment. It has, however, been most faithfully performed, and the records of our volunteers so consolidated and systematized as to be easy of access.

Complete sets of muster-out rolls of all our volunteer organizations have been obtained, the value of which can not be estimated. They, with other valuable records, such as muster-in rolls, returns from regiments, returns from hospitals, official reports of casualties, and others too numerous to mention, will be placed in the fire-proof vaults connected with this office.

The work of closing the records of volunteers has been extremely laborious and of a most perplexing nature.

Digitized by Google

Regimental and hospital returns and muster-out rolls often conflict, one with the other. Such cases have occasioned lengthy and voluminous correspondence, often producing the pleasing result of preventing injustice being done to deserving soldiers.

The daily applications of soldiers requesting the correction of errors in official returns made to this office, have received attention, and, regardless of the work imposed, have invariably received full investigation.

During the past year a heavy correspondence has been carried on, occasioned by the muster-out of service of our volunteer troops, producing a multitude of anxious inquiries from relatives and friends of soldiers, either slain in battle, or starved victims of rebel barbarity, or that have suffered death from wounds or lingering disease in camp or hospital, or that failed to return home with their companies for muster-out of service. The desired information, when known, has in all cases been promptly imparted, and when unknown, every exertion possible has been made to ascertain the facts so anxiously desired.

Returns and rolls that have been received from Regiments, hospitals, and various other sources, have been acknowledged, carefully examined, recorded, and placed with their appropriate files.

The many cases of inquiry referred to this office daily, by the War Department, in all instances have received prompt attention.

To all authorized agents, information affecting the pension, back pay and bounties of deceased and discharged soldiers, has been imparted.

Company officers have been furnished with all desired information of discharged or deceased soldiers, to enable them to complete the muster-out rolls of their commands. All recommendations for promotion that have been received have been examined, approved or disapproved, and transmitted.

Digitized by Google

Commissions, manifold in number, have been made, recorded, and forwarded.

Accounts against this Department have been examined, recorded, certified and transmitted to the State Auditor for payment.

Accounts against the United States have been prepared and presented, the major portion of which have been liquidated.

State aid claims of towns and cities have been carefully compared with the records, certified and returned to the Honorable Committee on State Aid, for adjustment. This labor has been extremely onerous, requiring much time and great patience.

The annual enrollment of the militia has, by persistent effort, been obtained complete, a success unattained for a series of years past. Having just emerged from a sanguinary war of four long years' duration, the enrollment of this year becomes an item of unusual interest and increased importance.

Many new companies of State Militia have been organized and accepted into the service of the State. The labor attending the same has by no means been insignificant.

Companies have been furnished with arms, equipments, company books, blanks, tactics, and nearly all of them uniformed.

Invoices and receipts of all property issued, have each been exchanged in duplicate.

General and special orders and circulars have been promulgated. Muster and pay-rolls of the militia examined, certified, and payment of the same obtained. All militia returns received have been acknowledged, carefully examined and recorded.

Returned regiments have been properly received and provided for in a most hospitable manner.

Digitized by Google

The general correspondence of the office has been exceedingly burdensome. The unceasing efforts to obtain historical material of regiments has occasioned great labor. During the past year three thousand letters have been written, copies of which have been retained and recorded. In addition, printed circular letters, to the number of six thousand, and certificates of enlistment, to the number of some three thousand five hundred have been issued.

The personal inquiries made at this office have varied from fifty to one hundred daily. The information, though cheerfully imparted, has often caused serious detention in the discharge of most pressing duties.

The labor of preparing this report can not be adequately explained. To give some idea of its extent, it is but necessary to state that the consolidated records of our volunteers have almost entirely been transcribed in preparing the manuscript.

In addition to the foregoing labors, should be mentioned the labor of preparing my annual report as Quartermaster-General, which will be submitted separately.

It should also be stated that this office has been twice moved during the past year, and the consequent inevitable confusion attending the same, has proved a source of serious inconvenience, and to a great extent increased the labors of the office. The records have accumulated to such vast proportions, and, from necessity, are so numerous in their classification, that it becomes no trifling matter to "strike tents," and establish headquarters elsewhere. The only gratifying circumstance connected with the perambulation of this office, is the fact that each change has been distinguished by marked improvement in location. Its present situation is by far the most preferable, and being such, it is hoped that no event in the future will necessitate another change.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

In accordance with the course designated by President Johnson to be pursued in regard to the funeral obsequies of our lamented President, Abraham Lincoln, early arrangements were commenced for their observance on the 1st of June, and the following circular was issued from this office:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE:
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Concord, May 5, 1865.

CIRCULAR No. 1.

For the information of the people of New-Hampshire, the following is promulgated:

1st. The Hon. J. W. Patterson, of Hanover, has accepted an invitation from the Governor and the Honorable Council to deliver a Funeral Eulogy on the lamented Chief Magistrate of the United States, at the Capital of New-Hampshire, on the first day of June, being the day designated by President Johnson for further memorial service to ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

2d. The people of the State are cordially invited to assemble at their Capital, on the day above designated, and unite, without distinction of party, in some more formal tribute of respect to the memory of the pure-minded patriot and honest man, who was struck down by a cowardly assassin, while holding the highest office in the gift of the American people. An especial invitation is extended to the various social, philanthropic, and military organizations of the Commonwealth, to be present in a body; and it is hoped that in this State, as in every other, the various Masonic bodies, Lodges of Odd Fellows, Divisions of Sons of Temperance, and other similar organizations, will be largely represented on an occasion which transcends all political and social ties, and justly enlists the sympathy of all classes of humanity.

3d. The delegations from other towns and cities will be met, on there arrival in Concord, by suitable escort, and proceed to the place that may be designated for the delivery of Mr. Patterson's oration, under the direction of the Adjutant-General of the State, who is authorized by the Governor to designate assistant Marshals, and arrange the minor details of the mournful pageant.

Organizations desiring to participate in the ceremonies of the occasion will communicate with him at an early day.

4th. The Veteran Soldiers of New-Hampshire regiments are especially invited to be present, when their State pays the last tribute of respect to the memory of their late Commander-in-Chief. The post of honor will be assigned them on this occasion.

Each organization will be entrusted with the battle-flags which it has borne through the terrible chances of war, and marshaled by the ranking officer who may be present.

His Excellency, the Governor, is endeavoring to make such arrangements as will insure the free transportation of discharged and disabled soldiers to Concord and return.

5th. Special orders in regard to the military escort for this occasion will be issued, and further information seasonably promulgated from this office.

6th. It is believed that the people of New-Hampshire will, in general, avail themselves of this occasion to make public manifestation of their love and respect for our late President. How much we loved him, we knew not, until he was taken from us.

"He was always a true friend to the Republic." Can a more proud title be worn by an American; and can one wear it as proudly as he?

Be this the thought we would put upon his tombstone:

"The more we knew him, the more we loved him. The more he was tried by the common danger, the more he was trusted by the people."

Because he loved the nation, the nation now weeps for him; because he labored in our behalf, we hold him in affectionate remembrance.

In just appreciation of his integrity, we will honor his memory.

By order of His Excellency, the Governor.

NATT HEAD, Adjutant-General.

This circular was succeeded on the 13th instant by the following order:

NATT HEAD, Adjutant-General.

Arrangements were subsequently made for providing free transportation over all the railroads in the State for all discharged officers and soldiers, State militia organizations, and bands. All railroads — the Boston and Maine excepted — transported others for half fare. A general order was issued on the 31st of May, giving the proposed order of the procession, appointing the various marshals and their aids, and making all necessary arrangements for the military part of the proceedings.

The people of the State turned out in large numbers in answer to the invitation extended to them. The railroads were occupied to their utmost capacity in bringing citizens and soldiers, singly, and by organized bodies, from all parts of the State. From the neighboring towns, and those not on the lines of railroad, came large numbers of carriages, with multitudes of people, adding to the already immense throng. The exercises contemplated in the order issued on the previous day were fully carried out, and the procession was probably the largest ever known in the State. The number of citizens who visited the Capital that day was estimated at upward of twenty thousand.

The proceedings are too well known to thousands of participants to need detailed mention in these pages. It was a spontaneous expression of the sorrow of the people for the loss of one whom all loved and trusted; one who, amidst the turbulent times of civil war and party strife, won the respect and esteem of political supporters and party opponents. The literature of the time is rich with eloquent tributes to his worth. Monuments of marble and of brass memorize his place in the affections of those who loved him. Paintings and sculpture preserve the form and lineaments with which we desire to recall his presence. But his noblest monument, after all, is his place in the hearts of all who could appreciate a life-long struggle for duty, and the sacrifice of a life in its devoted performance of the right.

STATE MILITIA, AND STATE MILITIA LAWS.

The liberal provisons contained in the militia law of 1862, and its subsequent amendments, possess gratifying proofs of their wisdom in the present flourishing condition of our volunteer militia. Nearly all the force authorized by the law has been raised and organized, and a sufficient number of companies are now in progress to complete it.

During the past year one of the best companies raised under the old law, namely, the Granite State Cadets, of Nashua, has been disbanded on account of the expiration of the term of service for which it was organized. For a succession of years this company ever maintained full ranks, until the war drew so heavily on its members as to seriously embarras its organization. It leaves the service of the State with a reputation second to none. Its place will be supplied with one or more new companies about being organized.

The following companies have been organized and accepted into the service of the State during the present year, and now form a portion of a body fully equipped and ready for any emergency calling for the employment of a military force:

|---|---|
| HEAD GUARDS, | MANCHESTER. |
| GRANITE STATE ZOUAVES, | DOVER. |
| HARRIMAN GUARDS, | LYME. |
| SMYTH RIFLES, | MANCHESTER. |
| SHERIDAN GUARDS, | MANCHESTER. |
| FIRST COMPANY OF CAVALRY, | MANCHESTER. |

|---|---|
| FIRST LIGHT BATTERY (Section A), | DOVER. |
| STATE CAPITAL GUARDS, | CONCORD. |
| MESSER RIFLES, | NEW-LONDON. |
| GILMORE RIFLES, | (Fisherville) CONCORD. |
| SMYTH GUARDS, | BOSCAWEN. |
| MANCHESTER WAR VETERANS, | MANCHESTER. |
| WILTON LIGHT INFANTRY, | WILTON. |
| HOOKSETT LIGHT INFANTRY, | HOOKSETT. |

These companies were raised in the order as shown, and have been furnished with arms and accouterments, and, with one exception, with uniforms of the United States army pattern.

The military spirit is now quite active, and almost any required number of companies might be raised. Numerous petitions from several places for raising companies have been refused, in order to give all sections of the State an opportunity of being represented.

In the main, the present law has been found to work admirably, but there are yet some minor points in which it is susceptible of improvement, and I would suggest one or two amendments, which might readily be made a supplementary enactment, and added to the copies already printed for distribution among the militia. The following are the changes and additions which most forcibly recommend themselves:

1. In my judgment, it would be economy, both in expense and labor, to limit companies of all arms to the same number of men and officers—say, a minimum of fifty-one. At present, the law provides for much larger companies of artillery and cavalry than infantry. However necessary this distinction may be in troops for active service, I am confident that the extra labor, and complication in papers, arising from looking after different classes of organization is not compensated by any advantage in the present plan.

2. The present law makes inadequate provision for enforcing care and responsibility for property belonging to the State, on the part of those into whose possession it may come. I am of the opinion that it would be well to provide that neither clothing, camp and garrison equipage, or ordnance, should be allowed to be taken from the company armories except for repairs or company parade. Officers, responsible for State property, should be bound in some adequate manner for its safe-keeping, and I would suggest that, to the present remedy of a suit for damages, in case of carelessness or willful neglect, there be added some penalty which might be enforced in case judgment obtained in such suit should fail to be satisfied.

3. A certain number of meetings for drill, etc., perhaps one per month—the day to be at the option of the company, or its commanding officer—should be required, and rigidly enforced. It is only by frequent practice that proficiency in tactics, or a proper esprit du corps can be maintained, and further legislation seems necessary to make the law efficient in this respect.

The amount allowed by law for annual rent of an armory is but fifty dollars. For this sum, in towns of any considerable size, where most of our companies are raised, no suitable room can be obtained. The armory should not only be a place suitable for the storage of the company property, but should be large enough to admit of some of the movements of squad and company drill. I would recommend that the amount allowed for rent of armory be increased to one hundred dollars per year, believing that it will prove, in the end, an economical measure, as enhancing the efficiency of the militia, and the safety of the State property.

It seems to me, also, that the present allowance of one dollar and fifty cents for the use of horses for our cavalry and artillery, at their various annual parades and inspections, should be increased to two dollars per day, which is a reasonable sum for the pay for a horse for such duty.

It would be a great improvement in the appearance of the uniform of the militia, to substitute for the common and inferior button of the United States army pattern, the State button of New-Hampshire. And I would recommend that the law in regard to uniforms be so amended as to require that the State button be furnished to the several companies, and that they be required to make the necessary change. Massachusetts, and other States, have adopted a similar plan; and, beside the propriety of using a State button on a State uniform, the improved appearance will amply compensate for the slight expense to be incurred.

The above would remedy the most defective points in the recent law, and I would urge the importance of their consideration by the Honorable Legislature.

The last encampment held by the State Militia was in 1863. Every year since that date, companies have expressed a most anxious desire to hold another encampment; but in consequence of the incompleteness of the organization of the militia, none has since been ordered. The provisions of the law in this respect, however, now that the military force of the State is in some measure organized, should be enforced. I can conceive of no greater stimulus to the military spirit, and no greater encouragement to the zeal and proficiency of the companies, than the prospect of such a meeting as this occasion affords, and I believe it to be of the highest importance that an encampment be held during the coming autumn.

RETURNED COLORS.

After a great deal of effort in looking up and recovering colors belonging to the several regiments, those which have been found and those which were returned formally to the State by the regiments, have now been tastefully arranged, with proper labels to designate the regiments to which they belonged, upon the columns supporting the Doric Hall of the State House. The whole number, including a few guidons, is eighty-two. It is probable that a few others are scattered about the State in the hands of unauthorized parties, which ought to be delivered over to the State and properly cared for. Those which were found, were some of them in the hands of officers of the regiments to which they belonged, and some of them in the hands of citizens who had in one way or another obtained possession of them.

It is a source of infinite gratification that these glorious mementos have at last been gathered together and so disposed of as to form not only an ornament to the State House but one of the chief objects of interest which shall attract the eye of the visitor at the Capitol. The gathering crowds which, during the coming session of the Legislature, will assemble to gaze on these colors; the affection with which they will be viewed by the war-worn veterans who will come to see once more the flag they followed sometimes to victory, sometimes to defeat, and, thank God! to final triumph, but never to dishonor; the reverence in which they will be held by the citizens who see in their torn and tattered folds the evidence of the esteem in which were held the principles embodied in their country's banner; and last and holiest, the tears of the widow and orphan which will flow at the sight which recalls the loss of dear ones who hallowed its memory with their blood, all will witness, as they have already witnessed, the feelings with which these honored memorials of glory are esteemed, and call upon us to preserve, with tender care, these remnants of the banners under which our brothers and sons marched to the defense of their country.

Under the feeling that these colors are perishable, and can only be seen by a visit to the Capitol, I considered it would be desired by all patriotic citizens to retain, in a durable and portable form, some representation of the several flags of the different regiments. With this belief, I accepted a proposal from Messrs. Kimball &

Digitized by Google

Sons, photographers of Concord, to make pictures of the different colors, both singly, and in groups of those of each regiment. These pictures have been very successfully taken, and I can conceive of no act on the part of our State more just and appreciative of the services performed by our brave soldiers, than for the ensuing Legislature to provide by Act that all honorably discharged volunteers be presented, by the State, with a photograph, in group, of the colors of the regiment or organization in which they performed honorable service.

Copies of all the photographs have been presented to the State by Messrs. Kimball & Sons, which can be seen at my office. Additional copies of any or all can be obtained at a reasonable price of the publishers, by any who desire to possess so valuable a memento.

THE SOLDIERS AT HOME.

Among the people at large there was an apparently well-grounded fear that should the war suddenly close, and thousands of men be at once returned from the strictness of army discipline to the greater freedom of civil life, disorder and crime would increase, and society suffer greatly from the change. The history of the past was turned to as confirming this theory, and the future was looked forward to with the pleasing anticipations of the return of peace clouded with an unpleasant forboding of what would be the condition of society after the return of so many of its members, hardened by exposure to danger and excitement, careless of life and property, from an experience calculated to render both cheaply estimated, and likely to find the quiet pursuits of home irksome after the more stirring scenes of active and sanguinary warfare. The facts, however, prove the theory to have wanted foundation, and the fear to have been really groundless. Crime may possibly have been more prevalent during the year past since the war came to an end than in the year preceding, but may probably be mostly accounted for in the increase of that part of the population who are its usual authors. While the war drew largely on the most respectable and best portion of the citizens, it also naturally drew in many of the disorderly and vicious. In the latter years of the war many were induced by large bounties to enter the service, who, beside being in themselves a positively bad class of recruits, had the further effect of discouraging the enlistment of the better men of the State, whose circumstances had prevented them from previously entering the service. The desertions and otherwise disgraceful record of the above mentioned class, will be seen from the rolls of the various regiments to which they were assigned.

Society, being thus freed from many of its worst elements, was, during their absence, peculiarly exempt from crime and disorder; and if, for a short time after the close of the war these seemed to increase, it was doubtless owing to the contrast between that period and the quiet year just preceding it, rather than to any increase in the ordinary amount of wrong-doing caused by the demoralizing effect of a life in the army on those who had temporarily engaged in it.

The soldiers were not such by profession, and men who had taken up arms from the purest of motives, who disliked the scenes of blood and devastation they witnessed as heartily as they longed for peace, home, and their familiar pursuits; who were only citizens in blue, fighting for peace, and not for conquest; for their own homes, and not the aggrandizement of crowned rulers; such men could scarcely be injuriously affected by any circumstances with which they were surrounded.

The worthless characters, substitutes and others, whose motive was gain and whose standing in society was already of the lowest stamp, would be likely to be improved rather than injured by the strictness of military discipline; and where the service failed to awaken any feeling of patriotism or desire for promotion, it could hardly be wanting in a salutary influence of subordination to authority and obedience to law.

The facts, so far as they have come to my observation or have been reported to me by others, confirm this view of the matter. Of the inmates of our penitentiaries and prisons, and of the names on our criminal dockets, the returned soldiers bear no more than the proportion which, from their numbers, compared with other classes of the community, would seem natural, and of these the worst criminals are probably just the men who would have occupied these places had there been no war. By far the larger portion of the soldiers have quietly returned to their former occupations, and resumed their places as useful, sober and respected members of community. Society has received no shock, and felt no unusual disturbance. Regiments have returned, been paid off and discharged, and in twenty-four hours have been so absorbed with their fellow-citizens, that here and there an empty sleeve, a halting gait, or a blue coat, were the only visible evidences that so large a portion of the population had just returned from a long and bloody war.

I esteem it both a duty and a privilege to pay this tribute to the returned soldiers of the State of New-Hampshire. Their promptness in volunteering, their unfailing patriotism and their unflinching bravery, are a noble record; and this record is fitly crowned by the admirable spirit and good order in which they have laid down the weapons of war, and, having seen the Union and the Flag restored to their former glory, resumed the arts and avocations of peace.

ERRORS.

It is not possible for a work of this description to be completed and made free from errors. All volunteers are accounted for as reported to this office upon some official return. Hospital returns frequently conflict with monthly returns of regiments and muster-out rolls of companies. A discriminating judgment often has to be exercised, and much correspondence carried on before the records of volunteers can be determined upon. Not a day passes but that more or less corrections are made in the records of our volunteers, occasioned by investigations made at their personal request, or in consequence of later returns that are daily being received from various sources.

In the addenda and errata of this report I shall endeavor to have appear all corrections and alterations made, up to the latest day possible previous to the completion of printing the first volume.

UNAVOIDABLE DEFECTS.

It will be observed in many cases that the residence of volunteers is omitted. The army muster-roll, used at the time of the organization of our early regiments, made no provision for a column in which should have been inserted the residence of each volunteer, or the town or city entitled to credit for his enlistment. The enlistment papers, also, failed to contain this most desirable information; consequently I have been unable to obtain official and reliable evidence of the residence of such volunteers as are accounted for as unknown.

I would also speak of the imperfect returns of casualties received prior to March, 1864. On my assuming the duties of Adjutant-General, I found that but few returns of casualties had been received at the office. Officers in the field, instead of reporting casualties to the Headquarters of the State, forwarded them direct to publishers of our several State newspapers. It is greatly to be regretted that they should have pursued such a course, as it has prevented justice being done hundreds of our volunteers who carry with them the evidence of honorable wounds received in devotion to their country's cause. None will admit the propriety of relying upon newspaper publications for information to be embodied in records of so great importance as those of our volunteer soldiers.

It is also to be regretted that so many cases exist where reports have failed to furnish the date of return to regiments of members who have been captured by the enemy and afterward paroled, and that have been inmates of hospitals for many weary months of painful sickness, as well as of those who have voluntarily returned from desertion, and others that have been apprehended.

I would further speak of the imperfect nature of most of the muster-out rolls of our volunteer organizations. By orders of the War Department, it is decreed that when an organization is mustered out of service, its members are declared mustered out at the same time, regardless of the fact of their being absent at the time of muster out. Mustering officers, in numerous cases, have failed to note upon the muster-out rolls the proper remarks accounting for those absent at time of muster-out, in consequence of which many appear as having been mustered out at such a date and nothing further said; whereas, the soldier may continue in service, absent on detached duty, or sick in hospital. Company commanders are to a great extent responsible for the omission of such remarks as would give the whereabouts of absent men, as from the company commanders such information is obtained by the mustering-out officer. The fact that a soldier is not entitled to pay after the date of muster-out of his company (although if he is sick and in hospital he is entitled to medical treatment), may explain why, in many instances, company commanders have failed to note the whereabouts of absentees upon the muster-out rolls.

OBLIGATIONS TO ASSISTANTS.

I can not refrain from acknowledging my indebtedness to those who have been engaged in this office during the past two years, and to whose patient labor and careful watchfulness the State is indebted for the accurate records of military services which have now been nearly completed, and which are every day proving themselves invaluable to the returned soldiers and their representatives.

Of the amount of labor thus performed, and the pains taken to make it full and reliable, very few, who read these volumes, have any adequate conception. The clerks in my office have been employed far into nearly every evening of the year, and it has been only by the most unremitting diligence that it has been possible to bring the work to its present approximation to perfection.

I am especially indebted to my chief clerk, Captain Alonzo P. Bacon, who, to an unflagging zeal in systematizing the details of the office, and in supervising the labor in every department, has added a rare taste in arrangement, unusual method and order in execution, and untiring industry in carrying out the arduous and often perplexing business of the office. The convenience of the office itself, and its furniture, as well as the tasteful arrangement of its adornments, and of the colors in the Doric Hall (which have been mentioned elsewhere),—are due to Capt. Bacon, and I take pleasure in thus acknowledging, both in behalf of myself and the State, for what we are indebted to his efforts.

Messrs. George F. Lord and John M. Haines have both been connected with the office during the same period. They are both careful, accurate and industrious gentlemen, and have labored with commendable diligence and cheerfulness in the arduous duties which the pressure of business, at certain portions of the year, has rendered excessive.

Mr. J. W. Hatch, who has acted both as messenger for the office and receiver and shipper of all military property, I have found to be a thoroughly reliable and industrious man. The value of a faithful person for the position could hardly be exaggerated.

Other employees have been in the office for longer or shorter periods during the year, and I deem myself peculiarly fortunate in having secured those who were uniformly trustworthy.

WORK THAT SHOULD BE DONE.

There is no inconsiderable amount of labor remaining to be performed. The many thousands of enlistment papers should be more carefully folded, assorted by companies, indorsed, and properly filed by regiments.

The records of our State militia are by no means so perfect as they should be. A new set of records should be started, of the same character as those inaugurated on my assuming the duties of this office.

The most important labor, and that which is daily becoming imperative, is the preparation of a new set of books, which should be commenced at once, and in which should be transcribed the records of our volunteers. The original descriptive books in this office, of regiments that were started at the commencement of the war, were sadly insufficient in size, containing not more than half the space required in which to insert the full record of the enlisted men.

Immediately on entering the office, in March, 1864, I caused new and proper books to be furnished, in which were recorded the names of all volunteers forwarded to the field since January, 1863. These books contain a full description and complete record of said volunteers. All the books, both old and new, are rapidly assuming a serious and alarmingly worn appearance; having been in constant use for the past few years, the records of many men are in great danger of being obliterated by reason of the dilapidated condition of the pages on which they are recorded. A new and more convenient set of books should be immediately manufactured, containing more space for remarks; the record of each organization should be copied therein, and each in a book by itself. The expense attending these improvements would be but trifling, and the clerical assistance of the office would in no manner have to be increased beyond the number authorized by law, to transact the current duties of the office.

I would respectfully call the attention of the Honorable Legislature to the paramount importance of these improvements being made, and would feel gratified if they would take action in causing the books to be examined, and if their judgment approves, direct that the improvements suggested be carried into execution.

CONCLUSION.

As, with the present report, I shall have concluded the history of the volunteer organizations of the State, and the operations of this office which, since I entered upon its duties, have pertained to the late war, I feel that I may cheerfully and satisfactorily sever my connection with the position to which your Excellency's predecessor appointed me, and with somewhat of a feeling that I have made a tolerable completion of the work of what will always be known as a remarkable epoch in the military history of the State.

The difficulties to be encountered and the vexations to be undergone have been many, and have been perhaps sufficiently alluded to in the other portions of this Report. The suddenness of the war, the inadequacy, or I might say the entire absence, of military system, the scanty accommodations allowed by law for carrying on the business of the department, the almost total want of all military knowledge among those who had been called upon to commence the great work of raising and organizing troops, and in which I lacked as much as any; the lack of system and order, in this department, which, above all others, demands accuracy and method; the magnitude of the work to be performed, and the necessary hurry in which much of it had to be executed; these, and scores of other difficulties equally severe, have rendered the duties of the office arduous, incessant, and at times unpleasant.

There has, however, been a bright side to the picture. I have been fortunate in the choice of my assistants. I have found the officers of the army, both regular and volunteer, with whom I have come in contact, uniformly courteous and obliging. Your predecessor, Governor Gilmore, was always ready to second any efforts of this department for the furtherance of its objects. The Council and former members of the State government have done all in their power to aid me, and the Legislature has never failed, when their attention has been called to any deficiency, to readily and liberally supply whatever has been wanted. To your Excellency, the Executive Council, and all the present board of State officers, my warmest thanks are due for valuable suggestions, timely assistance, and the always obliging spirit in which my official connection with yourself and them has been carried on.

Many times I have thought proper to supply some want, arising on an emergency, which was not anticipated by law, but I have never failed to procure from the Executive an approval of all reasonable expenditures, and from the Legislature a relief from personal responsibility therefor.

During my continuance in office I have made many warm personal friends, and, I trust, but few personal enemies. There are many things to regret in leaving a position which may necessarily sever many of these pleasant connections; but I am sure that the acquaintances thus formed will prove a lasting source of pleasure in the future.

The war, which seemed likely to last a long time when I assumed the duties of the position, has been successfully brought to a close. The part which New-Hampshire has taken in the contest has not been surpassed by that of any other State, considering its means and its population, and its record may well be a matter of pride to every citizen of the State. I deem it a high privilege to have been in some degree connected with the military history of the Commonwealth of New-Hampshire, and to recognize and acknowledge, in every way, the debt we owe to the brave men to whom is due the preservation of the Union and the restoration of the Government.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

NATT HEAD, Adjutant-General.
